Professional Experience

Freelance
Front-end Engineer
08/2019 - 03/2020

My experience in web development mainly comes from self-education and independant projects, that I love to challenge myself with.
Having 12+ month of experience studing and building web solutions, I have developed a strong passion for this domain.
To demonstrate my learning curve, I have provided a git link, which you can use to review the projects I have worked at. This is my first application for Junior Front-end dev. position, and I am excited to put my skill to the test as a part of growing, ambitious team.
